HE & SHE MD AFFILIATE MARKETING, ADVERTISING & COMPLIANCE GUIDE

Operated by NextGen Telehealth Inc.
A Delaware Corporation

Effective Date: July 1, 2026

Purpose

The He & She MD Affiliate Marketing, Advertising & Compliance Guide (“Guide”) establishes the marketing, advertising, branding, and compliance standards applicable to all Affiliate Partners participating in the He & She MD Affiliate Partner Program (“Program”).

This Guide is incorporated by reference into the He & She MD Affiliate Partner Master Agreement and forms part of the contractual obligations of every Affiliate Partner.

The purpose of this Guide is to:

- Protect consumers through truthful and responsible healthcare advertising.
- Maintain consistent He & She MD brand standards.
- Ensure compliance with applicable advertising, healthcare, and consumer protection laws.
- Provide Affiliates with practical guidance for creating compliant marketing content.
- Protect the integrity and reputation of the He & She MD brand.

Failure to comply with this Guide may result in suspension, commission reversals, termination from the Program, and other remedies available under the Affiliate Partner Master Agreement.

Compliance Philosophy

Healthcare advertising carries unique legal, ethical, and regulatory responsibilities.

Unlike many consumer products, He & She MD provides access to prescription healthcare services that require evaluation by licensed healthcare providers.

Affiliate Partners represent the He & She MD brand whenever they publish advertisements, create content, promote treatments, or communicate with prospective patients.

Accordingly, all Affiliate marketing must be:

- Truthful
- Accurate
- Transparent
- Evidence-based
- Respectful
- Consumer-focused
- Consistent with Company policies
- Compliant with applicable laws and platform policies

Our objective is to educate consumers—not to pressure, mislead, or create unrealistic expectations regarding healthcare outcomes.

Guiding Principles

Every marketing communication should reinforce the following principles.

1. Accuracy

Marketing materials must accurately describe He & She MD services.

Affiliates must never exaggerate benefits, misrepresent treatment availability, or omit information necessary for consumers to make informed decisions.

Medical claims should always be truthful, balanced, and supported by appropriate evidence where required.

2. Transparency

Affiliate relationships must always be disclosed in accordance with applicable FTC guidance.

Consumers should clearly understand when content is sponsored or when an Affiliate may receive compensation.

Transparency builds trust and protects both consumers and the He & She MD brand.

3. Respect

Healthcare marketing should educate and inform.

Affiliates should avoid:

- Fear-based messaging
- Shame-based messaging
- Unrealistic body expectations
- Misleading urgency
- High-pressure sales tactics

Consumers should feel empowered to make informed healthcare decisions.

4. Medical Integrity

Only licensed healthcare providers determine treatment eligibility.

Affiliate Partners may explain the Company's services but may never:

- diagnose medical conditions;
- recommend prescription medications;
- interpret laboratory results;
- adjust medication dosages;
- provide individualized medical advice; or
- imply that treatment is guaranteed.

Medical decisions remain exclusively between the patient and the licensed healthcare provider.

5. Brand Consistency

All Affiliate marketing should reinforce the premium positioning of He & She MD.

Marketing should consistently feel:

- Premium
- Modern
- Educational
- Trustworthy
- Consumer-friendly
- Wellness-focused
- Mobile-first
- Professionally designed

Affiliates must follow the He & She MD Brand Standards Guide when creating marketing materials.

Applicable Laws & Platform Policies
